

VERBS PRACTICE

My name is Nico and I am from Greece. I came* to the United States two years ago with my family. We live in a small town in Pennsylvania called Kennett Square. I live in town, but I don't work in town—I work in West Chester. I work from Monday to Friday, from 8:30 to 5:30. I have a car and I drive to work every day. It is about 25 minutes by car from Kennett Square to West Chester. My friend Sam also works with me, and we take turns driving to work. One week I drive, and one week Sam drives. This is good, because we save money on gas that way! Sam is my American friend; he does not speak Greek. This is good, too, because I can practice English with him on the way to work.

I am married, and I have three children. One goes to school: my daughter is 8 years old and she is in the third grade. Our twin sons are too little for school now, they are almost 3 years old. Next year, they will go* to pre-school. My wife works hard at home: she cleans, prepares and cooks the meals, and takes care of our children. She also works part-time four days a week, in the evenings. I take care of the children while she is at work.

Both my wife and I attend a class to learn to speak English better. We go to class, and we also study together. We listen to lessons on the computer, we read and write the new vocabulary words, and we practice with our American neighbors. We also watch American TV. We want to learn quickly, but English is not so easy—it takes time and patience to learn!

TO BE    TO COME    TO LIVE    TO WORK    TO HAVE    TO DRIVE    TO TAKE TURNS

*Notes:

*Came – this is the past tense of come.

I come home from work at 6:00 PM. Yesterday, I came home early, at 5:15.

Nico came to the United States two years ago with his family.

*will go – this is the future tense of go. In English, will and a verb indicates the future.

Tomorrow, I will go to the supermarket.

My parents will not go on vacation in July; they will go in August.

When will we go to the library to borrow books?

Nico and his wife will study hard because they want to learn to speak English.

They will not miss any classes.

Next year, Nico's twin sons will go to pre-school.

The children will play outside tomorrow if the weather is nice.

They will not play outside today because it is raining.
